Proteo-Max Support*

MADE WITH NON GMO
ingredients

A supplement to support a healthy inflammation response*

Did You Know...

Inflammation is the body's natural response to injury. For extended periods of time, this is beneficial because it allows the body to recruit nutrients to an injury site, allowing the injury to heal faster.* Chronic inflammation, however, is not only painful, but is very damaging to the body.* The first step of an effective joint support protocol should seek to address the issue of inflammation.

HealthSource Proteo-Max Support* can help to support the following:

- Joint comfort*
- Mobility, range of motion and flexibility*
- Acute inflammation response*

The HealthSource Difference

HealthSource Proteo-Max Support* consists of proteolytic enzymes, which are highly active substances that serve as catalysts in the body, supporting chemical reactions in a number of metabolic processes. HealthSource Proteo-Max Support may be used in many kinds of inflammatory support roles in the body, and can help promote the body's healthy response to injury. Proteolytic enzymes can be used for an extended period of time for continuous support.*
