PROTEO-MAX SUPPORT*

A DIETARY SUPPLEMENT

Proteo-Max Support* is a distinct combination of Corydalis, Devil's Claw, Boswellia serrata, and is designed to support comfort and mobility.***

Proteo-Max Support* is the next level of joint and muscle comfort support.* It has been designed to help support the body with aches and pains associated with physical activity and over-exertion.

Proteo-Max Support* Supports:

- Joint comfort (including neck, shoulder, knee and extremities)*
- Mobility, range of motion and flexibility*
- Muscle and joint comfort.*

INGREDIENTS OF INTEREST:

Corydalis

Corydalis has been studied for its swift response in helping the body deal with joint discomfort.* In laboratory research, it has exhibited supportive properties related to comfort involving the central nervous system.* Tetrahydropalmatine (THD) is the alkaloid responsible for the pharmacological action of corydalis.

Devil's Claw

Devil's Claw has been used for thousands of years in Africa for fever, joint support, and skin conditions. It supports joint flexibility and comfort.*

Boswellia serrata

Boswellia serrata helps support normal prostaglandin levels.* This can support the body's ability to manage synthesis of certain compounds that can cause discomfort.* Boswellia also provides immune system support.*
